

RANDALL LEWIS POLICY FELLOWS PROGRAM

APPLICATIONS OPEN EVERY SPRING

The Randall Lewis Policy Fellows program (RLPF), offered by the Center for Community Solutions at UCR, is an incredible, paid opportunity for Master of Public Policy (MPP) students to immerse themselves in real-world policy analysis, research, and implementation. As an RLPF, you'll contribute meaningfully to local organizations, sharpening your policy skills and expanding your professional horizon—all while making a lasting impact.

FELLOWSHIP FEATURES

$8k award that can be accepted in addition to a TA or GSR position

Fills internship requirement for MPP and BA/MPP programs

Workshops, coaching, and events with top policy professionals in the IE

400 hours of paid work (380 with host organization + 20 hours of professional development)